

San Pedro City Ballet (SPCB) was established in 1994 by nationally recognized dancers and teachers, Cynthia and Patrick David Bradley, as a not-for-profit dance company serving greater Los Angeles. The company performs "The Nutcracker" annually at the Warner Grand Theatre in San Pedro as well as producing original modern works for a variety of venues throughout southern California. In addition, San Pedro City Ballet, through its outreach programs holds performance workshops throughout the city of Los Angeles. Thousands of residents see the company perform each year.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to identify, train and promote a world-class pre-professional dance company from the diverse population of the Los Angeles Harbor area that is founded in the base of classical works and traditions, and goes beyond to explore new contemporary and original modern works and to provide training to schools throughout Los Angeles for arts education and after school programs.
